false ideas of life and the world, look down with disdain and contempt on the calling of their fathers. The most ancient and honorable of callings is mean and degrading in their sight. They have obtained some imperfect conceptions of the value of wealth; of the supposed exemption in the pursuits of literature and the learned professions; and of the special advantages of living in the town or city.

the road is less rugged, and where the reture to themselves scenes of perpetual pleasure in the possession of great riches supposed to be paid to all in the elevated but it is, after all, rather a delusion than a reality. All these scenes are presented to their young and ardent imaginations through glasses of the highest magnifying power. Their vision has been engrossed dark spots in the picture. They simply glanced at the gilded trappings of wealth, tudes constantly sinking in the agonies of despair, before half reaching the object heads, to the conquerors of fleets and ar- soon. mies, without inquiring how many thouthe conflicts, their names now forgotten, and as little regarded as the dust unde tion, only a few become known, and are of these, not one, perhaps, in a thousand will be remembered by posterity. And also, among the adventurers for fortune. where one obtains a permanent competency, a hundred sink in poverty; it may be with broken spirits and ruined health; and, it may be said for a certainty, not one in ten thousand becomes really rich. Besides, a literary, professional, or mercantile life is by no means a life of indolence or case. There is in it an increasing application to study, a wasting of spirit and physical energy far greater than in the labor on a farm; and, in the search after wealth, there is usually an anxiety, and care, and vexation, and disappointhappiness than the fatigues and privations incident to agriculture. I have no intention of making you disgusted with the world; but to caution you against its false appearances. Look at the world as it is. Examine it in its true aspect. Imagine not that to be gold which is merely gilded brass. Imagine not that to be rest and dignified leisure when corroding care and solicitude, like a canker, are eating up the soul; nor imagine that a bed of roses is spread within hours of experience would teach you that it consisted of thorns.

There are, it is true, situations in life more desirable than that of a day-laborer on a farm. But the difference between them is not so great as is generally supposed. And then, the chances for obtaining them are so small, the experiment to be made is not unlike that of obtaining a fortune in a lottery, casting in our money, though there be ten thousand make the most of them. Strive to elevate and ennoble your calling, and in this way elevate and ennoble yourselves. The husbandman is nature's nobleman.

Compiler,

Bear in mind that by industry and perseverance, and by application to your duties as farmers' boys, you will attain positions of honor and usefulness which you could not hope to reach in the bustling crowded city.

You have minds-many of you have good minds. Cultivate and improve them. Endeavor to acquire a good practical education. The many modern improvements in husbandry and farming implements and machinery afford you much leisure. Employ it in reading and study and self-improvement. Do not waste or idle away your time. The world is full of idlers and drones-be not you of the number. Bear in mind that learning. coupled with common sense and a well balanced judgment, will always command respect and influence. Remember that knowledge is power. Gettysburg, June 18, 1866.

WHERE I PIRST MET MY WIFE.

Now, my dear; romantie reader, do not suppose that I met her at a ball, where she was irresistibly fascinated by my wondrous charms; my portly form, or my beautiful whiskers. Oh no; it was under, no such circumstances, and if you will only curb your patience, I will tell you where I did meet her.

But first I will tell you who I am, which is essential in every story. My name is Frank Grey, the youngest of three children, and of rather a roving disposition. I spent my summers in the country, as I deemed it healthier there than at my father's mansion, in the city. While in the of the country requires that this matter country. I devoted most of my time to should be settled, and I will proceed to country, I devoted most of my time to hunting. One lovely morning in June, I was in a beautiful woods, where I saw the waving trees with their wreaths of leaves, and the free, wild birds twittered their songs over my head.

I was perfectly fascinated, when my quick eye caught sight of a hawk on a large oak tree. I took aim and shot; as I heard the report of the gun, I also heard the scream of a human being. I hastened to the spot from whence it came, and there before me lay a beautiful girl, who had been sitting under the tree from which I shot my prey. Oh, fatal omen, had I shot this innocent girl, who came here to pass a few hours by herself and to commune with the beauties of nature? But, she was only frightened; she soon revived, and I assisted her to her father's residence, which I learned was but a short distance from the woods. I lingered of their aspirations. They simply heard there until I saw the color return to her the shouts and huzzas floating over their cheeks; then left, promising to return

But to gratify your curiosity, I will tell you I took home with me a bride who was noné else than our Gracie Allison. I was sorry at the time I shot so near to where she was, but now I am delighted at the thought, for I fear I would never have been so fortunate as to meet my own recognized in the republic of letters; and not be uninteresting to the readers of matters and things here generally. Irwin Station is a thriving town on the Penn'a. Central Railroad. It has two fine churches, one German Reformed and the other Methodist. It has also four very fine stores and some very pretty private residences. I do not know the population, but the town is incorporated .--There is an Odd Fellows' Society, and one also of the "Good Templars."

I was informed that there are from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars paid out here every month by the coal companies. The miners make from three ment, far more incompatible with real to five dollars per day digging coal, and some of them are getting rich at it. They are principally foreigners. The coal under the ground sells at from three to four hundred dollars per acre, and the owner retains and cultivates the surface as usual. This is a very hilly country, and there is plenty of coal under all the hills; indeed, we might say it is inexhaustible.

The prospect for a wheat crop is not very flattering. Several of the farmers have plowed up their wheat fields and sown them with oats. There have been sever your reach for your repose, when a few al heavy frosts, which have been injurious to the corn, but the late rains have improved it considerably. The prices of produce are a little higher than they are in old Adams, but wages are much better here than there.

The salaries of teachers are better than they are in our county. Teachers get from forty to fifty dollars per month, and the term is six months in a year.

There are some very fine school houses in this township-indeed, all of them are. They are built on rising ground, and are surrounded by shade trees. It would be well if some of the Directors in Adams county would come out here and take pattern before building.

I was very glad to see by the COMPILER that our excellent Superintendent, Mr. Sheely, has been re-elected to the office which he has so admirably filled for the last three years. It was a compliment

Our country is the special jury, and by and by this business will go up before it on appeal. The record must go up fair and complete, and therefore Pil take occasion to make. public what I swore to. I said a good deal more than I can put down, Mr. Editor; and at times my language was considered impudent, but they thought that was all the better for their side: for it illustrated the rebellious spirit—I heard one of 'em say: "Let him go on—the ruling passion strong in death. He's good State's evidence." When I was put on the stand old Boutwell swore me most fiercely and solemnly to speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; and I observed that he was then entertaining about a quart of double rectified, and it looked like it had soured on his stomach. Old Blow was settin off on one side with a memorandum book, gettin ready to note down some "garbled extracts." Old Iron works was chairman, and when he nodded his Republican head, old Boutwell says he: "Your name is

"So called," says I.

"That depends on circumstances," says
I. "I don't know whether to count the last five years or not. During the war your folks said that a State couldn't secede, but that while she was in a state of rebellion she ceased to exist. Now you say we got out, and we shan't get back again until 1870. A man's age has got something to do with his rights—and if we are not to vote. I don't think we ough t to count the time. That's about as near as I can come to my age, sir."
"Well, sir," says he, "are you familiar with the political sentiments of the citizens of your State." "Got no citizens yet, sir, that we know of. I will thank you to speak of us as people."

"Well, sir," says he, "I'll humor your meanle of your against your hand. They say the deal wasn't fair, and you've marked the cards and stole the trumps! but at the same time they don't care a darn what you do. They've become indifferent, and don't care nothing about your Guy Fawkes business. I mean no insult to you, gentlemen, but I swore to tell you the whole truth. Our people aint a noticeln you, only out of curiosity. They don't expect anything decent, or honorable, or noble from you, and they've gone to diggin, and plowin, and plantin, and raisin boy children."

Right here the man with a memorandum scratched down a garbled extract, "and old Boutwell" says he: "What do you mean by that sir? What inference do you intend?"

ttes, but it didn't pay. He finally caught the dropsy in the Red Sea. We are raisin boy children for the fun of it. They are a good thing to have in the house, as Mr. Toodles would say."
"Mr. Arp, are not the feelings of your people very bitter towards the north?"

"I beg your pardon, sir, but you'll have to split the question, or else I'll have to split the answer. Our people have a very high regard for honorable men, orave men, noble-hearted men; and there's a heap of 'em north, sir, and there's a heap of widows and orphans there we are sorry for; but as for this here Rade I par y, they look upon 'em like they was hyena a scratchin up the deat for a livin. It's as natural to hate 'em as it is to kill a snake. It's utterly impossible for me to t 11 the strength, and length, and hight, depth, and breadth of their contempt for that party. They look upon a Radical as—as—as—well, as a beggar on horseback—a buzzard sailin round a dead ea le a suck-egg dog creeping up to the tail of bined.

a dead lion. They talk of hirin Brownlow to abuse 'em, to use language on 'em i like he did a few years ago when he spoke against Payne. If they do hire Brownlow he'll spatter 'em, he'll daub 'em all over, and slime 'em and slobber on 'em about right; and it will stick, for the pores are open, and their morals spongy. I'd like to stand off about ten rods and hear him spread himself. It would be worse than a squirt-gun full of cow slop, and I have no doubt would give general satisfaction."
"That's sufficient, sir," says old Boutwell. "Ef it was in their power to do so, well. would your people renew the fight."

"Not unless they could fight the Radicals all alone, and all the world agree to hands off. Even then there wouldn't be no fight, for we couldn't cotch you."

is "the white man's government." Every what do your people say upon the subject of negro equality."

"They say it's a lie, sir—it don't exist by nature, and never can in practice. Folks were not created free and equal. That may be a theoretical truth, but it's always been a practical lie. There's always been a practical lie. There's men I give the sidewalk to and there's men that gives it to me. There's men that gives it to me. There's men that I vote, and men that vote me, and the grades go up, up, up, step by step, that I vote, and men that vote me, and the grades go up, up, up, step by step, from my sort to Mr. Davis, and Mr. Stephens, and General Lee, and Howell Cobb, and Ben Hill, and their sorts; and then again it goes from me down, down, down, to the niggers, and the Republicans and Radicals, and that's as low as they do it certain beven of the eighteen errats strong with African rates. The other rebel takes will do the same takes, and you'll have about fifty of em to draw seats with, and you can all stick your legs upon and your infernal revenue, and obeying laws without havin any hand in makin 'em, and we are cut off from pensions and public lands; and you sold's poor man's still in my county the other day because he couldn't pay your tax on some peach brandy he stilled for his neighbors two years are: some peach brandy he stilled for his neighbors two years ago; and soon yeu'll be sellin the land for the tax; and you're tryin your best to play the devil generally; but you'll catch it in the long run. -Soo if you don't. Talk about Fenlaris.— When the good men of the north and the south all get together, they'll walk over the track so fast that you won't lave time to get out of the way. You'll subside into obscurity, and your children will deny-that their daddies ever belonged to such a party. Excuse me rentlyed to such a pa ty. Excuse, me gentlemen, but I'm a little excited. Five cents a pound on cotton will excite anybody that makes it. Tax on industry—on swent and toil. Protective tariffs for Pennsylvania, and five cents a pound tax on Southern cotton—half its average worth and your folks will manage some way or other to steal the other half. My advice to you is to quit this foolishness, and begin to travel the only road to peace."

Old Blow couldn't keep up with his garbled extracts.

The Reading Gazette says;
The Democrated State Central Committee have resolved to call a Mass Convenion of the friends of Johnson and Clymer in the Eastern and Middle counties of Pennsylvania, to be held in the city of Reading, on Wednesday, the 18th of July next. It is the design of the Committee to popen the State campaign in Old Berks, the citadel of Democracy, and the home of Hester Clymer, our distinguished candidate for Governor, by a monster demonstration, which will give a forward impetus to the cause of the Union and Constitutions as the Commissioners, with such restrictions as the Commissioners, which McConaughy himsety is the convex of consults of Pennsylvania, and we do most emphatically repudiate their proceedings. Bitter Wine of Iron. A N exquisite impregnation of dry Spunish Wine with the activity of CALISAYA BARK, and the most energetic of all the ferruginous salts, OITRATE OF MAGNETIC OX-1DE OF IRON. It has a vinous flavor, very grateful to the palute, is without chairbeate unste and will not discolor the teeth. It excites languid appetite, gives zest to food, improves digestion, increases the strength, steadies the circulation, takes off muscular flubbiness, removes the pallor of debility, gives firmness and precision to the actions of the nervous system, with power to endure fatigae and resist disease. MAGNETIC CITRATE of IRON is new and peculiar, differing from the ordinary Soluble Citrate, in containing an equivalent of Protoxide of Iron, in place of the Ammonia. It is neutral, tasteless, without astringency, as and energetic as the Chloride, and unlike that, induces no local inflammatory ctio ; or headache

Soluble Pactite Guano. 200 LBS. SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO contains 70 lbs. animal matter, yielding Also 80 to 90 lbs. earthy bone Phosphate of lime 30 lbs. of which are soluble phosphate.

It combines all the advantages of the best brands of Super Phosphate, with those of Peruvian Gu no.

By reason of its greater concentration, we recommend 20 per ct. less by weight to be used per acre, than of any fertilizer costing the same per ton, and no more per acre than of those selling at 20 per ct. more per ton .-Hence its economy.

This guano weighs 65 lbs. per bushel, hence in applying it farmers must be governed by weight and not by bulk, for it is much lighter than the Super Phosphates. Every cargo duly JOHN S. REESE & CO, GENERAL AGENTS FOR THE SOUTH, 71 South Street, Bultimore.

"Flour of Bone." E will give a money guarantee of the purity of this article. It is pure un-steamed, unburnt bone, reduced to the fineness of flour, which adds 100 per ct. to its value. It is as quick and active as acid dissolved bone, hence its value is vastly greater, because it contains neither acid nor water, which neces-sarily add weight, and reduce the quantity of valuable elements. We recommend 250 lbs, to boused in place of 300 lbs. Super Phosphate

X. 1866. L. THE GREAT ZINGARI BITTERS. THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheopsus, an eminent Eg, ptian

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the haman family was then compelled to endure.

The great question was presented to his mind every day in vivid colors as he moved among the sick and dying, and observed the in-efficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was lead to think and experiment; and after ten years of study and labor, he presented to his fellow man, the wonderful ingari Bitters. Theeff ct of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease, was so marvellous and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold sented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in severa epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and

ble disease should be freely and persistently All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumu-lation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different forms of fevers.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, keeping up s composed entirely of roots and herbs, so icely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhoea Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Ner

For the Rapid Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Difficulty of Breathing, Spitting of Blood, First Stages of Consumption, Soreness of the Throat, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

This Syrup is an invaluable remedy for the alleviation and cure of Pulmonary Diseases. It is prompt in its action, pleasant to the taste, and from its extreme nulldness, is peculiarly applicable to the use of children and persons in delicate health. As an anodyne expectorant, it will always be found to be beneficial, by alleviating and arresting the several spells of coughing so distressing to the patient.

The afflicted can rely upon its doing of much, or more than any other remedy in soothing the nerves, facilitating expectoration, and healing the Diseased Lungs, thus striking at the root of all diseases and eradicating it from the system.

All I sak is a trial of this preparation, as it has no equal in its effects, and never falls to give entire satisfaction to all who use it. We warrant it in all cases or the money refunded.

Of a highly respectable citizen, well known to

Dr. J. H. Schenck—Dear Sir.—For over fifteen years I have been troubled with a servers could not be supported by the servers of the servers o vere cough, and usually two or three times a year with more or less hemorrhage, which together, for the last few years, has kept me thin in flesh and too weak to do business of any kind without suffering. In August last I had a very severe hemorrhage, and, according to the judgment of a good New York physician, I was classed as heaved the was classed as beyond the reach of medicine, and was advised to be prepared, so far as property matters were concerned, to leave this world at short notice. The physician (and my good friends) said that the first cold I took must prove fatal. Early in January I took a severe cold, and fortunately was occupying rooms at No. 32 BOND STREET, directly over rooms at No. 32 BOND STREET, directly over your office. I think about the 10th of January I procured a bottle of your Pulmonic Syrup and commenced taking it freely. My feet and limbs were very much swollyn, and all the symptoms at a speedy death seemed to accompany my cold. I sent for my former physician, and stated to him that I was taking your medicines, and after showing them to him, and having tasted of them, ac, he replied: "You can take them if you like, they will do you no harm." He said: "You know what I told you last summer, and I say the same now, if you have any business to close up, do not put it off." He said to other friends that he "oould see no hope for me," and my friends and relations concluded my time had come. At this time I was taking freely of your medicine, but had not seen you. The doctor called a few had not seen you. The doctor called a few times, and found me (much to his surprise, he said.) improving, and he could not understand why. My faith was increasing in your medi-cines, and I had a wish to have you examino my case, and see what you had to say. When you first came to my room and made the examination, you gave me but little encourageamination, you gave me but little encouragement, but on the contrary, expressed sad doubts of my ever being helped out of my then seeming difficulties. The second time that you called, finding me still gaining, you gave me encouragement, saying, "my symptoms were improving; the Pulmonic Syrup, Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills had acted like a charm." My circulation, my cough, my appetite, all began to improve, and I could walk about my room a little. You visited me nearly every Tucsday, and found me improving, and told me not to go out of my room until the first day of May. I took no cold while under your treatment, my appetite became under your treatment, my appetite became first-rate, and you told me to eat everything I wished of a nutritious nature, and to exercise about the room as much as possible. I fol-lowed your advice, and to the surprise of my old physician and friends, I seem much better than I have been for several years, and breathe better than I ever expected a person could with one lung, the left being completely dried up. I feel very grateful to you, and consider your advice and medicines invaluable.

Yours, truly, T.S. SHELDON.

Dr. Schenck-Dear Sir:-About two years ago I was taken with a very troublesome cough and a pain in my breast; seven or eight months passed away without my doing anything for myself. Then I applied to a physician, who attended me for about three months without rendering me any service. I also obtained the advice and treatment of a physician in one of our hospitals, and also had the advice and treatment of two other physicians, but all to no treatment of two other physicians, but all to no purpose. During this long space of time I was nearly dead; several times my friends came to see me and witness my exit into the spirit-world. I was confined to my bed two months at one time. My breathing was exceedingly short. I gave up several times all hope of getting better; and as regarded getting well, that was entirely out of the question.—And to think this day I am well and hearty!—I was advised by some of my friends to try Dr. Schenck's Medicines. I accordingly bought Schenck's Medicines. I accordingly bought bottle after bottle, until I reached the ninth; then I found a decided change in my cough for the better. I suffered severely from palpi-tation of the heart, and two weeks after I commenced taking your medicine this difficulty ceased.

When I first went to Dr. Schenck's office it or impurity of blood.

As a blood purifier and tonic or general appetizer, these bitters have no equal, and should be used in every family, as disease cannot exist where they are used. They are also waranted a perfect safeguard against Fever and Ague. Ladies desiring a clear complexion and good health should not fail to use them. They are particularly recommended to them. They are particularly recommended to them they are suffering under Debility and Depression of Spirits, their soothing and renovating powers being particularly adapted to all such cases.

DEFORMATION TO DEED DORMATION Sequenced To the Pulmonic Syrum Sequenced To t through my whole system. The Pulmonic Syrup, Sea-weed Touic and Mandrake Pells, all took right hold in the right place. The Pills brought away great quantities of bife and slime; the Syrup loosened the matter in my lungs, which came off very free; the Sca-Weed Tonic gave me an appetite, and everything seemed to taste good:

To show what great power the medicines have in purifying my system, and to show how bad I was diseased, beside all the bile that passed my bowels, and the great quantities of phicom and matter I expectorated: I broke out all over in large boils, that would continue to gather and run for about six weeks, and I had at one time over twenty five boils. I have nothing of the kind now, and feel like another person altogether. I can safely say that I have not enjoyed such health for five years as I do now, and cannot praise you and your medicines enough. May God abundantly bless and preserve you, is the sincere desire of one who has been so wonderfully relieved through your agency; and if any one desires to know with regard to the truthfulness of this report, if they will call upon any of my friends, or upon me, No. 4 Dryden Place, near Thompson et eet, below Cadwalader, Philadelphia, they will be perfectly satisfied with the validity of the case. Yours, with much respect,
